Semester 学期	Fall 2022	Course Level 履修年次	N/A	Credits 単位	2	hrs/wks 時間数/週	2
【Course Objectives: 授業の到達目標】
The Constitution of Japan is the supreme law of our country, and you must know it to truly understand the social and political structure of Japan. You can also understand Japanese political landscape through this lecture. This lecture is about the law, but you do not need any legal knowledge for taking the lecture.
【Course Summary: 授業の概要】
In this lecture, we will overview the Constitution of Japan. The Constitution mainly consists of two parts; human rights and government structure. In fall term, I will lecture on the latter part. I will also explain about basic principles and history of the Constitution in this lecture. In spring term, I will lecture on the part of human rights. Before each lecture, I will assign a short presentation time to one student, in which you will make a speech on a recent topic on your own constitution (I assume that you will use an article on the web, and introduce it to the class).
【Study Required outside Class (Preparation etc): 事前・事後学習】
I do not require any preparatory works (except for short presentation). You just need to bring your materials posted on Moodle. You have to work after taking every lecture, reading back handouts and other materials.
